

Free Online Preview

IC Market Tracking®

IC
Interconnection
Consulting

Container and Modular Buildings

14th May
10:45 am

in Europe 2024

register
now!

NEW IC UPDATE: Container and Modular Buildings 2024

Container and Modular Buildings market remains stable under turbulent conditions in building industry, but it does not apply to all countries throughout Europe.

To find out more, join us on May 14th for the presentation of the new IC Market Tracking® Container and Modular Buildings in Europe 2024!

The presented content shows the development of the Container and Modular Buildings market for the period 2020 to 2027:

Overview of the market size and market development of container and modular buildings in value and quantity split by Business segmentation to Sale and Rental segments. Sale segment is divided into Container systems and Modular buildings with subsegments according to Application area. The Rent segment is split similarly according to Application area plus Customer segmentation.

Other segmentation of the market is according to Construction/Material type and Insulation properties of container and modular buildings.

Presentation of the most important market drivers (GDP, construction business)

Our Analyst Robert Lukac will provide a broad overview of the overall market development in 2023 and will also present our up-to-date forecast for the period 2024 - 2027.

When: May 14th, 2024, 10:45 am

Where: online

Register via this link.